

Acetic acid-induced abdominal writhing test

(for evaluation of the anti-nociceptive effect of candidate drugs)

The total number of writhes after i.p. administration of 0.6% (v/v) acetic acid was recorded over a period of 20 minutes, beginning immediately after injection.

